Important Message from Medicare

Your rights as a hospital patient:

- You have the right to receive necessary hospital services covered by Medicare or covered by your Medicare Health Plan ("your Plan") if you are a Plan enrollee.
- You have the right to know about any decisions that the hospital, your physician, your Plan or anyone else makes about your hospital stay and who will pay for it.
- Your physician, your Plan or the hospital should arrange for services you will need after you leave the hospital. Medicare or your Plan may cover some care in your home (home health care) and other kinds of care if ordered by your physician or by your Plan. You have a right to know about these services, who will pay for them and where you can get them. If you have any questions, please talk to your physician, your Plan or other hospital personnel.

Your Hospital Discharge & Medicare Appeal Rights

Date of Discharge

When your physician or Plan determines that you can be discharged from the hospital, you will be advised of your planned date of discharge. You may appeal if you think that you are being asked to leave the hospital too soon. If you stay in the hospital after your planned date of discharge, it is possible that your charges for additional days in the hospital will not be covered by Medicare, Medicaid or your Plan.

Your Right to an Immediate Appeal Without Financial Risk

If you are a Medicare recipient and feel you are being discharged from the hospital too soon, you have the right to appeal to your Quality Improvement Organization (also known as a QIO). The QIO, KEPRO, is authorized by Medicare to provide a second opinion about your readiness to leave. You may call KEPRO toll-free, 24 hours a day, at 1.855.408.8557 (TTY 1.855.843.4776) for more information on asking your QIO for a second opinion. If you want to appeal, you must contact the QIO no later than before you leave the hospital on your planned discharge date to avoid any additional costs. You will not be responsible for paying for the days you stay in the hospital during the QIO review, even if the QIO disagrees with you, except for charges such as co-pays and deductibles. The QIO will decide within one day after it receives the necessary information. If you miss the deadline for filing an immediate appeal (after the discharge has been activated), you may still request a review by the QIO before you leave the hospital. However, you will have to pay for the costs of your additional days in the hospital if the QIO denies your appeal. To talk to someone at Eskenazi Health about this, please call 317.880.6802.

Other Appeal Rights

If you are not a Medicare recipient and feel you are being discharged too soon, you may have the right to appeal to your plan. The point of contact for each plan will vary. Please refer to your insurance card for details of who to contact. To ensure that your plan allows the right to appeal, you will be required to work with your designated case manager to avoid delays and fees associated with your plan of care. If you are discharged and still have concerns, you may file for review at the address or telephone number of your plan. To talk to someone at Eskenazi Health about this, please call 317.880.6802.

Consent

With the exception of emergency treatment, each patient or guardian must provide informed consent for surgical and certain other procedures. State law prohibits Eskenazi Health from treating minors without the proper consent of the minor patient's legally qualified representative, except in emergency cases. A minor is a person under the age of 18.

Interpreters

Interpreter services can be provided to you during your hospital stay. Please tell the staff assisting you if you need an interpreter. There may be an interpreter available in the hospital. If one is not available, staff can access a telephone interpretation service or use a My Accessible Real Time Trusted Interpreter (MARTTI) unit to provide live video interpretation. Interpreter services for hearing-impaired patients are also available. All interpretation services are available at no additional charge. Please ask your nursing staff for assistance.

Pain Management

There are many ways that your patient care team can help to effectively control your pain. Please speak with your physician or nurse about your pain at any time, and ask questions about pain and pain relief.

You have a right to:

- Information and answers to your questions about pain and pain relief
- Feel that the staff cares and takes your complaints seriously
- A quick response when you report pain

 - A pain relief plan
 - Any pain that won't go away
- Ask for pain relief as soon as the pain begins.
- Help physicians and nurses measure your pain.
- Stay in your assigned patient unit so as not to impede on your care.

How to talk about your pain

When you talk about pain, answer the following questions:

- Where is the pain located?
- Does the pain come and go or is it continuous?
- Would you describe the pain as sharp, dull, aching, throbbing, needles, etc.?
- What makes the pain better?

- What makes the pain worse?

Special Precautions

Eskenazi Health is committed to the prevention, reduction and, if clinically possible, elimination of the use of restraints. However, their occasional use may be necessary to prevent a patient from inflicting self-harm or interfering with medical care. All preventive measures and non-physical interventions will be exhausted prior to using physical restraints, which will be used for the shortest possible duration.

Medical Ethics

Modern medicine helps us provide patients with the most advanced care available today. Still, sometimes it may be difficult to make decisions about your care. You may be faced with choices and responsibilities that you have never thought about before. You may wish to speak with an ethics consultant or a member of the Eskenazi Health Ethics Committee. If so, please ask a member of your health care team to page the ethics consultant on call. You may also ask your nurse or the hospital operator to page the chaplain or house supervisor on call to help you contact the right person to assist you.

Advance Directives

It is your right to accept or refuse medical care, but there may come a time when you are unable to make your own decisions due to an injury or illness. Advance directives can protect your right to make decisions about future medical care if you ever become unable to communicate your wishes. Advance directives are instructions that you give in advance about what type of medical care you want or whom you want to make medical decisions for you if you are unable to communicate your wishes.

The following advance directives are recognized in the state of Indiana:

- Talking with your physician and/or family
- Appointment of health care representative
- Organ/tissue donor
- Power of attorney
- Living will declaration and life prolonging procedures declaration
- Out of hospital do not resuscitate declaration and order
- Psychiatric advance directive
- Physician orders for scope of treatment (POST)
- Funeral planning declaration

More information on advance directives is available in this admissions packet.

Please remember:

- You have the right to control what medical treatment you will receive.
- No one can discriminate against you for signing or not signing an advance directive.
- Using an advance directive is, however, your way to control your future medical treatment.

If you would like additional information on advance directives, Eskenazi Health Center for Spiritual Care & Education or Eskenazi Health Transition Support staff members are available to provide you with this information. They may be reached at 317.880.7120 (Eskenazi Health Center for Spiritual Care & Education) or 317.880.6802 (Eskenazi Health Transition Support).

Physician Orders for Scope of Treatment

Physician Orders for Scope of Treatment (POST) is a form designed to be a portable, authoritative and immediately actionable physician order consistent with your wishes and medical condition. POST is only appropriate for someone with:

1. An advanced chronic progressive illness
2. An advanced chronic progressive frailty
3. A condition caused by injury, disease or illness from which, to a reasonable degree of medical certainty, there can be no recovery and death will occur from the condition within a short period without the provision of life-prolonging procedures
4. A medical condition that, if the person were to suffer cardiac or pulmonary failure, resuscitation would be unsuccessful or within a short period the person would experience repeated cardiac or pulmonary failure resulting in death

In consultation with you or your legal representative, your physician, nurse practitioner or physician assistant can write orders that reflect your wishes with regard to cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR), medical interventions (comfort measures, limited additional interventions or full treatment), antibiotics and artificially administered nutrition. If you would like to complete a POST, please ask your physician for assistance. You will receive a copy, and a copy will be scanned into your electronic medical record.

Billing

Eskenazi Health will bill your insurance company for services you have received. If a balance remains after the insurance company has paid, you will be billed for the balance. If you do not have insurance, you will also receive a bill. You will receive an additional bill for physician fees for services such as anesthesiology, radiology, pathology, etc. Services provided by physicians are not included in your hospital bill. Please direct all inquires to these physicians. If you have questions regarding payment of your hospital bill, please call the Eskenazi Health Patient Inquiry Center at 317.880.4055 or 1.888.402.6273.

Financial Counseling and Patient Responsibility

Eskenazi Health is committed to offering high-quality health care at little or no cost to Marion County residents who are unable to pay for their care. We ensure that payment for services is made within the ability of the individual patient.

If you do not have health insurance of any kind or cannot pay for your care, you will be asked to talk with a financial counselor. (Patients needing emergency care will always receive care right away, before discussing payment.) The financial counselor will explain the help available and see if you qualify for a program such as Medicare, Medicaid, HIP (Healthy Indiana Program) or Health Advantage. The counselor will assist you in signing up for these programs and will answer any questions that you may have.

If you or your family would like to talk with a financial counselor, please call the Eskenazi Health Patient Inquiry Center at 1.855.202.1053 or 1.800.621.9602.
